

Cookies

Material required:

- Felt in various colours
- Scissors
- Cotton wool or cotton wool pads
- BLANCOL Puffy Paint
- BLANCOL glue gun

1. Firstly, select 2 different coloured felts; one colour is intended as the biscuit “dough” and the other as the “icing”.

2. From the “dough” felt, cut out two circles that are approximately the size of the cotton wool pads, and from the “icing” felt, cut out a circle that is approximately 5 mm smaller than the dough so that this can be stuck on it. You can also give the “icing” a fun edging, such as waves or a zigzag pattern. Then stick the small circle on one of the larger circles (the icing on the biscuit).

3. Now cut a smaller circle from the cotton wool pad and clamp this between the two “dough” felts. Stick the two felt circles together along their edge using the BLANCOL glue gun and leave the biscuit to dry well.

4. Cut the edge to a biscuit-like shape.

5. With BLANCOL Puffy Paint, you can now decorate your biscuit and give it some decorative sprinkles. Depending on the amount applied, Puffy Paint should dry for approx. 3-12 hours. Then fluff it up using a hairdryer. Your biscuit is finished.

