

Tea light holder

Material required:

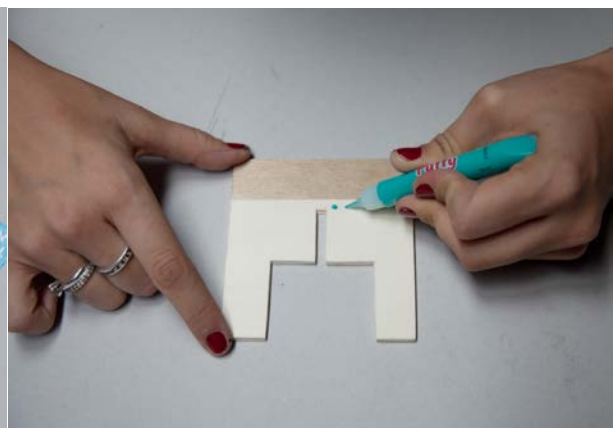

- Thin plywood panels
- Cutter
- Pencil
- Ruler
- BLANCOL special adhesive NATMAT
- Rechaud candle

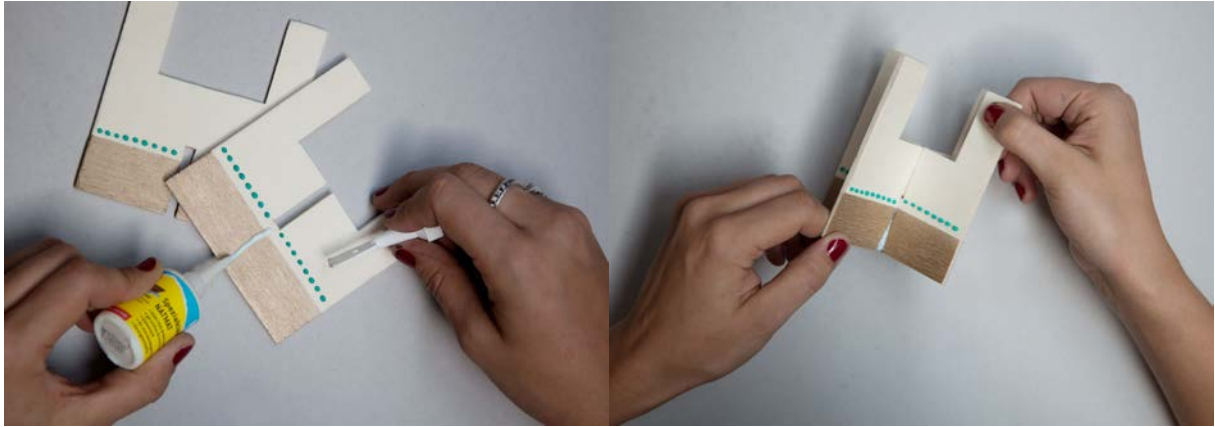

1. First draw the candle holders onto the plywood panels as described in the line guide and cut them out. Please note: Depending on the thickness of the plywood panels, the width of the incision may also vary. We recommend first measuring the plywood panels and adapting the template accordingly.

2. Now paint your tea light holders with your favourite paints. You can give free rein to your creativity and also set small highlights using BLANCOL Puffy Paint. Leave BLANCOL Puffy Paint to dry for approx. 3-12 hours and then fluff it up using a hairdryer.

3. Now stick the two individual parts together as described in the pictures, using BLANCOL special adhesive NATMAT.

4. As soon as everything is dry, you only have to insert a rechaud candle and the tea light holder is finished.
